

Subject: Request for Reference Letter for Symbotic Software Engineer Internship

Dear [],

I hope this email finds you well!

I am reaching out to request a Reference Letter for an internship opportunity I am incredibly interested in. I would be a great fit for the Back-End Software Engineer Internship at Symbotic because of the technical and personal alignment with the position and company. Given my experiences with you that highlight my technical and teamwork skills, I believe your recommendation would boost my application and help me greatly.

This internship focuses on developing real-time distributed software, multi-threaded systems, and containerized applications, all of which align with my background in C/C++, Python, SQL, and Linux. Additionally, my coursework in Software Design and Implementation has prepared me perfectly to be an effective addition to an agile engineering team at Symbotic.

Additionally, I align with Symbotic's emphasis on innovation, collaboration, and efficiency. Much of this can be shown in their mission of AI-driven solutions. I want to learn more about the present and future applications of AI and apply the skills I learned in my Introduction to Artificial Intelligence class. I was able to learn the fundamentals and foundation of AI and I want to develop this further to be able to have an innovative impact within the AI realm.

I have attached my resume and link to the internship:

If you can write the letter, please let me know how I can assist with additional information or a possible meeting. The application deadline is [deadline].

Thank you for your time and consideration!

Best Regards,
Nathan Czarnecki
